

LOATHSOME URNS, DISCLOSE YOUR TREASURE

From "The Triumph of Time and Truth" (1757)

Edited by Ebenezer Prout

GEORGE FRIDERIC HANDEL

Larghetto ($\text{♩} = 66$)

PIANO

BASS

Loath - some urns, — dis - close your treasure, Pride and pleasure, Un - veil to me, That staccato sempre

Copyright MCMV by Oliver Ditson Company

M L-1155-4

I may see If now an - y spark of beau - ty still re-mains, still remains, If now an-y spark of beau-ty still re - mains. Un -

Adagio

Tempo I

colla voce

veil to me, Loath - some urns, un - veil to me, That I may see If now an - y spark of beau - ty in you re - mains, Un - veil to me, That I may see, If now an-y spark of beau - ty still re - mains, still re - mains, If now an - y spark of beau-ty still re - mains, If now an - y Adagio

 spark of beau-ty still re - mains.
colla voce a tempo

Fine

No! all

Fine

dark as night! Tyrant worms their prey en - joy - ing, Dust and f p

ash - - es still de - stroy - ing, Which my greed-y tooth dis - dains, Which my greed-y tooth dis - dains, Which my greed-y tooth dis - dains.

Adagio

Da Capo

colla voce

Da Capo